About Recruitive

Recruitive has been synonymous with Recruitment Software since 2004. We are a market-leading supplier of innovative End to End Recruitment Solutions. We have experience in the design of careers websites, recruitment agency websites and job boards since 2001.

We provide HR Professionals, Recruiters and Hiring teams with innovative, cloud-based technology aimed at streamlining the recruitment process, making it quicker and easier to recruit, whilst significantly reducing the time to hire and associated costs. As early pioneers of multi-job posting technology, our expertise extended into candidate management, CV parsing and scoring, and search capabilities right through to candidate onboarding.

In April 2019 the business was acquired and Recruitive became a wholly-owned subsidiary of SaaS Holdings Limited. We support continued investment into ongoing Research and Development in order to remain ahead of the technology curve. Our end-to-end solutions also incorporate the front-end candidate attraction capabilities of careers websites, built and designed by our in-house design specialists.

This enables us to not only deliver award-winning back-end candidate management solutions for clients but also provide beautifully designed front-end career and campaign websites to attract the best candidate talent. As a result, we are one of the few providers in the market that can deliver a complete end-to-end solution.

Based in Cannock, Staffordshire, we employ 33 of the friendliest and most competent staff. We remain an incredibly innovative business, always looking for better ways to enhance the recruitment software landscape.

We are a market-leading company.

Job Board Features and Functions

Our aim is to design attractive, powerful, secure, and responsive job board websites, using the very latest technology and online recruitment functionality.

We will also ensure that your jobs board is not only attractive but performs well, generates more candidates and increases revenue from your clients/advertisers. Our experience in job board development comes from direct feedback using experienced recruiters, candidates and employers over the last 19 years.

Getting a job board built can be super easy with using our Recruitive technology but generating revenue is where we can help you the most! Our jobs board website services also include an initial search engine optimisation exercise and ongoing search engine support. Listed below are the features that will be included as standard in your new recruitment website. There are other additional features that are listed later in this document.
